Pastor's Corner

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

On the First Sunday of Advent, November 27, 2011, Catholic parishes in the United States will begin praying the texts of the mass using a new English translation of the Roman Missal.

Breaking Down Sections of the Mass with Changes

Examining the Liturgy of the Word

In the Mass, we prepared ourselves for this holy encounter with God's Word through the Introductory Rites. The readings from Scripture do not merely provide us with exhortations for moral living and reflections about the spiritual life. The Bible does not just talk about God, but it is God's own speech. We encounter the words of God Himself spoken personally to each one of us. Each book of the Bible contains the human author's writing style, personality, theological outlook, and pastoral concerns, but the Scriptures are also inspired by God. The idea of having a cycle of readings from Scriptures for liturgical worship is rooted in ancient Jewish practice. In the first century, the Law and the Prophets were regularly read in the context of synagogue worship. Some of the rabbinic evidence seen even points to the possible use of a three-year cycle of readings.

The selections from Scripture read at our Sunday liturgy today are determined by a three-year cycle of readings from the various parts of the Bible such as the Old Testament, the Psalms, the New Testament, and then the Gospel. The readings from Scripture also correspond to the various seasons and feasts of the Church. The Church walks us through the life and mission of Jesus through the seasons of the liturgical year. As Abbot Gueranger, a liturgical scholar put it, "Each year [the Church] sees him an infant in the manger, fasting in the desert, offering Himself on the cross, rising from the grave, founding his Church, instituting the sacraments, ascending to the right hand of the Father, and sending the Holy Ghost upon men. The graces of all these mysteries are renewed in her."

Next week we will look into the first three elements of the Liturgy of the Word.

May God Bless You,
