ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH

2016 PASTORAL SERVICES APPEAL

*"PROUD TO BE CATHOLIC...
KNOW. LOVE. SERVE"*

We would like to thank everyone who participated in the 2016 PSA last year for their donations. St. Mary's by the Sea Parish is truly blessed to have such faithful parishioners who not only met our Diocesan goal of $34,000, but greatly exceeded it. Our final end of the year report is as follows:

of Registered Families	# of Pledges Received	Total Pledges	Total Paid
543	87	$69,250	$68,850

As you can see, we doubled the goal given to us by the Diocese, which resulted in rebates back to our Church of: $35,250! May God abundantly bless you all!

Reflections of the Week

Behold the Lamb of God

You may wonder if anyone understood John the Baptist when he called Jesus the Lamb of God. Did they associate that name with the paschal lamb whose blood protected the Israelites from the Angel of Death? After Jesus' death and resurrection, the apostles began to understand that Jesus' blood, shed on the cross, freed us all from sin and death. Yet here is the Baptizer already acting like a disciple before Jesus has gathered any disciples or even begun to preach. In today's Gospel, John the Baptist gives us some hints about discipleship.

First, John trusts God with things he does not understand. He says twice that he did not know Jesus, yet he trusts God's revelation that Jesus would "baptize with the Holy Spirit" (John 1:33). We also may not always understand where God is leading us. If you have lost a loved one, are looking for work when no one is hiring, or are dealing with serious illness, this is the time to trust that God still loves and cares for you.

John also knew that doing God's work meant that God was working through him. Originally John baptized others as sign of repentance, but he soon came to see that his real work was to make Jesus "known to Israel" (John 1:31). When we try to do what God wants, it is good to remember that God is the one in control and who decides what the result will be. What looks like failure to us can be success in God's eyes.

John's third hint teaches us that a disciple shares his or her faith in God. So John testifies that Jesus is the Son of God. While that sounds obvious to us, it took courage to say that to people who would have thought it blasphemy. Even today, when Jesus is known throughout the world, we still need to share our faith experiences so those without faith may be attracted to it, and even those with faith can be encouraged by our sharing. You may be surprised to find that your own faith deepens the more you share it with others. As we point out the Lamb of God to those who don't know him, we get to know him better ourselves.

Some Truths Adults Have Learned

- Raising teenagers is alot like nailing Jell-O to a tree.
- There is always a lot to be thankful for if you take time to look for it. For example, I am sitting here thinking how nice it is that wrinkles on my face don't hurt.
- The best way to keep kids at home is to make it a pleasant atmosphere (and let the air out of their tires).
- Car sickness is the feeling you get when the monthly car payments are due.
- Families are like fudge...mostly sweet, with a few nuts.
- Laughing helps. It's like jogging on the inside.
- My mind not only wanders; sometimes it just leaves completely and I don't know where it is hiding.
- If you are able to remain calm while everyone else is rushing around, you just don't have all the facts.
- You know you're getting old when you stoop to tie your shoes and wonder what else you can do while you're down there.

Sanctity or Quality of Life?

In the late 1980's, a 17 year old Italian girl name Chiara began experiencing an incredible amount of pain throughout her body. After she visited medical professionals and underwent a series of tests, it was discovered that she had terminal bone cancer. Ultimately, this painful condition rendered her essentially paralyzed. Unable to play tennis, dance or run (some of her favorite activities), Chiara was confined to her hospital bed for the next two years. When friends or family members would come to visit her in order to cheer her up, the way she attended to them left them realizing that they were the ones who were being encouraged and strengthened! Chiara refused to accept pain-killers because she said that they made it too difficult to concentrate. She said, "there's only one thing I can do now: to offer my suffering to Jesus because I want to share as much as possible in his sufferings on the cross." In 2010, Pope Benedict XVI beatified Chiara.

Blessed Chiara had a vision of life that revealed a "Sanctity of Life" ethic. She knew that there is a God who gives all our lives (even painful and difficult lives) meaning and purpose. The alternative vision that the culture around us presents is called a "Quality of Life" ethic. This alternative and painfully shallow vision of life indicates that life is only "worth it" if a person is young, healthy, pain-free, and surrounded by loved ones. This "Quality of Life" ethic is utterly bankrupt. It cannot make sense of any life that doesn't match up to a 21st-century American vision of health, strength and prosperity. It doesn't know what to do with individuals who are suffering. It doesn't know what to do with human beings who are developmentally disabled or incapacitated or those who lives are considered to be non-productive. But do we truly want to create a world where other human beings who are considered to be inconvenient are treated as though they are disposable?

What story, what "vision" has each of us been adopting? Have we unknowingly adopted a "Quality of Life" perception over a "Sanctity of Life" understanding? Have we ever found ourselves saying (or thinking) something along the lines of, "If I didn't have my sight, my legs, my consciousness, my _____, my life would not be worth living"?

By our prayers, our actions, and the way we treat other people, we help to shape the world in which we live. Will it be a world where the "Quality of Life" ethic reigns and no one's permanent value is recognized, or one in which the "Sanctity of Life" ethic prevails and everyone is treated according to their incalculable worth, which nothing can take away?
