VISION & MISSION STATEMENT

Our Vision: "Be my Disciples. If not you, then who?"

Our Mission: St. Mary's by the Sea is a Catholic community of faith, hope, and love, journeying together in the spirit of stewardship, unity, and charity, embracing all in Christ under the mantle of Our Lady.

Reflections of the Week

The king in Jesus’ parable is quite persistent. He sends his servants out to invite the same guests a second time to his son’s wedding feast. In fact, it is possible that some of those who declined his invitation twice were invited a third time when the servants simply invited everyone they found in the streets. Indeed, they may have invited those who had earlier mistreated the servants since “bad and good alike” were welcomed as guests (Matthew 22:10). God continues to invite to the Son’s feast those who initially or repeatedly refuse, even those who respond inappropriately. We ourselves may have needed multiple invitations. We still may.

However, after the king throws out a guest who is not wearing a wedding garment, Jesus points out that “Many are invited, but few are chosen” (22:14). The wedding garment may be seen as the act of repentance, which enables the guest’s heart to be ready and worthy of both the eucharistic feast and the kingdom of heaven, which is what Jesus says the parable is all about. This wedding garment may be challenging to wear, but it is available to anyone and everyone. With our repentance and God’s forgiveness, we can be welcomed to the heavenly banquet.

In the second reading, Paul tells the Philippians that God will supply anything they need. We may come to the feast unprepared and lacking a “wedding garment,” but that does not mean that we are doomed to be thrown out into the darkness. No, God, “to whom we looked to save us” (Isaiah 25:9), will supply the wedding garment that will save us: mercy, forgiveness, redemption. Clothed in God’s love, we will be properly prepared to enter the kingdom of heaven.

Question of the Week

What will I do this week to weave a wedding garment of repentance, mercy, and love for the Lord’s feast? What do I need to repent of? Who needs my mercy? How can I show love?

Random Acts of Kindness

Are you exhausted from hearing depressing, sad news? Wouldn't a hug feel good?

Most of us intend to be kind. But we can get caught up in our daily lives and forget to do the little things that make a difference in the lives of those around us- family members, coworkers and complete strangers. A truly kind person doesn't pick and choose who they show kindness to.

Kindness is good for you! There are actual health benefits for us when we are kind to someone else. Kindness triggers the release of oxytocin, sometimes referred to as the "love hormone." This hormone, produced in our pituitary gland, helps to lower blood pressure and improve overall heart health. In addition, kindness offers mental health benefits of decreased stress and anxiety while boosting happiness. Relationships often improve with a little kindness!
